Programme overview

The FA Extension programme is designed specifically to support international students in preparation for a Goldsmiths Fine Art education. The programme is the first year of a four-year integrated offer. Students who achieve a mark of pass on the BA Fine Art Extension can progress directly onto of our undergraduate Honours Programmes. The BA Fine Art Extension supports students in the transition from highly structured formal education systems to a student-centred curriculum encouraging the development of an independent creative practice.

The pedagogic focus is the individual development of each student with the entire curriculum organised around the students' practice though individual and group tutorials, convenors, APAs, theory and research, artists' talks, workshops and masterclasses, gallery visits and walks, with the balance between SP and CS achieved by enabling students to develop their individual research, methodology and practice.

This student-centred approach forms the basis of the UG Studio Practice curriculum, designed to encourage students to find an evaluative art language to discuss their own work and that of their peers in which they challenge the norm, make judgements on existing norms, and reflect on their own and others' practice. This is achieved through group sessions, individual tutorials, and at formal presentations, in which the focus of discussion is the students' practice, research and ideas.

The Critical Studies lectures and seminars introduce new concepts in art history including a wide variety of academic disciplines such as anthropology, politics, social sciences, psychoanalysis, architecture, and other subjects that inform contemporary art practice.

The students are supported to acquire written, discussion and presentation skills.

The Portfolio of Art Writing is unique to the Fine Art Extension programme and supports different forms of writing, from poetry, prose to critical writing. It aims to establish a relationship to writing in the art world, as well as reflecting on how new art is written about, and how art is placed or written about culturally.

English for Academic Purposes (EAP) supports students through an art-related curriculum to develop their proficiency in English language in support of their practice.

Programme entry requirements

Successful completion of A-levels (CC) or equivalent, AND a portfolio of recent art work. If English isn't your first language, you will need an IELTS score (or equivalent English language qualification) of UKVI IELTS 5.0 (with no individual score lower than 5.0) to study this programme.

Academic support

Support for learning and wellbeing is provided in a number of ways by departments and College support services who work collaboratively to ensure students get the right help to reach their best potential both academically and personally.

All students are allocated a Personal Tutor (one in each department for joint programmes) who has overall responsibility for their individual progress and welfare. Personal Tutors meet with their student at least three a year either face-to-face, as part of a group and/or electronically. The first meeting normally takes place within the first few weeks of the autumn term. Personal Tutors are also available to students throughout the year of study. These meetings aim to discuss progress on modules, discussion of the academic discipline and reports from previous years if available (for continuing students). This provides an opportunity for progress, attendance and assessment marks to be reviewed and an informed discussion to take place about how to strengthen individual learning and success.

All students are also allocated a Senior Tutor to enable them to speak to an experienced academic member of staff about any issues which are negatively impacting their academic study and which are beyond the normal scope of issues handled by Programme Convenors and Personal Tutors.

Students are provided with information about learning resources, the Library and information available on Learn.gold \(VLE\) so that they have access to department/programme handbooks, programme information and support related information and guidance.

Taught sessions and lectures provide overviews of themes, which students are encouraged to complement with intensive reading for presentation and discussion with peers at seminars. Assessments build on lectures and seminars so students are expected to attend all taught sessions to build knowledge and their own understanding of their chosen discipline.

All assessed work is accompanied by some form of feedback to ensure that students' work is on the right track. It may come in a variety of forms ranging from written comments on a marked essay to oral and written feedback on developing projects and practice as they attend workshops.

Students may be referred to specialist student services by department staff or they may access support services independently. Information about support services is provided on the Goldsmiths website and for new students through new starter information and induction/Welcome Week. Any support recommendations that are made are agreed with the student and communicated to the department so that adjustments to learning and teaching are able to be implemented at a department level and students can be reassured that arrangements are in place. Opportunities are provided for students to review their support arrangements should their circumstances change. The Disability and Wellbeing Services maintain caseloads of students and provide on-going support.

The Careers Service provides central support for skills enhancement, running The Gold Award scheme and other co-curricular activities that are accredited via the Higher Education Achievement Report (HEAR).

The Centre for Academic Language and Literacies works with academic departments to provide bespoke academic literacy sessions. It also offers a programme of academic skills workshops and one-to-one provision for students throughout the year.

Employability and potential career opportunities

The Extension degree in Fine Art prepares students for progression to the BA Fine Art programme or BA Fine Art & History of Art. It is the start of their preparation for life-long learning, and puts in place the foundations to help them gain the ability and confidence to earn their living by being flexible, self-motivated and multi-skilled. The experience of the programme helps students to develop as autonomous individuals, with valuable skills for the changing work place.

The world of work is changing rapidly. Employers want people who can and are willing to learn, adapt and develop to the particular needs of the moment.

Art defines itself against a background of the past and re-defines itself within a changing present. The ability to recognise the significance of change as a fundamental component of self-development is crucial, both in the making of art, and in enabling the student/artist to contribute to the wider culture and economy.

The Extension degree enables students to progress to the BA Fine Art or BA Fine Art & History of Art programme, which provide students with more than a disciplinary knowledge. Students also learn the language that identifies them as members of a particular community of critical practitioners with shared intellectual and economic concerns. It grows knowledge of critical themes and an awareness of the protocols and relevant social procedures that underpin current professional life.

On both the Extension degree and the Undergraduate Programme Fine Art practice is represented to the student through a living network of individual practitioners, institutions, galleries, museums, granting agencies, and critical journals - that define and re-define the boundaries of an expanding field. It is this matrix that constructs the concerns of the community, and that is also responsible for circulating and communicating shared values. The Degrees help individuals make the connection between life-long learning, the wider culture and personal prosperity within the creative economies.

The Extension degree and Undergraduate programmes aim to equip students with the necessary skills to develop independent thought and confidence in their practice. They ultimately prepare the students for post-graduate study and further autonomous learning. Many students continue to be successful practising artists after their final graduation. Six winners of the Turner Prize studied at Goldsmiths, including three from the undergraduate programmes, and since 1991 nineteen alumnae from the undergraduate programmes have been short-listed. The success of our students continues to be reflected in current exhibitions at home and abroad.

The Department works within a thriving and multi-faceted University, allowing undergraduates to benefit from the relationship that Art has with other disciplines of study and academic work. The programmes are committed to giving the students skills to enable them to be active in many career paths.

Graduating students have been successful in fields including museums, galleries, curating, education, music, media and the creative industries.

The mixture of academic and practical elements of the course provides the opportunity for the students to discover and develop a wide range of communication and transferable skills to enable them to practice independently as artists, writers and creative individuals beyond graduation. This will increase opportunities for students to find productive employment within the burgeoning creative industries.

Programme-specific requirements

The programme comprises of three elements: i) Studio Practice, ii) Critical Studies and iii) English for Academic Purposes or A Portfolio of Art Writing. These must all be passed at 40% or above in order to successfully complete the course and proceed to the next Level. Marks achieved on the Extension degree do not carry forward to the assessment of the students' degree should they progress to the BA (Hons) in Fine Art or the BA (Hons) in Fine Art and History of Art.

In order to proceed to Level 4 it is necessary for both parts of the Studio Practice element at Level 3 and for the Critical Studies element at Level 3 to each be passed at 40% or above and for those students with an IELTS score of less than 6.5, in order to pass the English Language component students need to gain a minimum of 40% in all four sub-tests. For those students whose first language is English or whose IELTS score is above 6.5, in order to pass they must gain a minimum of 40% in the Portfolio of Art Writing.

In the case of Studio Practice, it is possible, at the discretion of the Board of Examiners, to resit the Presentation at Level 0 in late summer, with penalty applied. It is not possible to resit the Coursework part of the Studio Practice element. In the case of Critical Studies at level 3, following the failure of a valid attempt it is possible, at the discretion of the Board of Examiners, to resit with penalty applied, in late summer. In the case of English Language, following the failure of a valid attempt it is possible, at the discretion of the Board of Examiners, to resit any part at Level 3 in late summer, with penalty applied. In the case of the Portfolio of Art Writing it is possible, at the discretion of the Board of Examiners, to resit this element in late summer, with penalty applied. Marks achieved at this level are multiplied by particular weightings.

Tuition fee costs

Information on tuition fee costs is available at: <https://www.gold.ac.uk/students/fee-support/>

Specific programme costs

In addition to these standard costs, you will also be expected to meet some costs which are specifically related to your programme, which are set out below:

Access and support in all of the art practice areas is included in the cost of your tuition fees. However, you are responsible for providing the materials you choose to work with. A range of materials are available to buy in the practice areas, or you may choose to purchase materials from elsewhere. Reading material is available digitally, however printed copies are available to purchase from the department at less than cost price.
